Creating a Quality, Profitable Practice in Any Economy

Dr. Blatchford, America's leading dental business coach, will stimulate and motivate you to move forward in developing a strong system based business on integrity and accountability. The economic environment has changed and the American public has changed its spending habits, especially on discretionary items. The dental practice that will flourish in the future will not be able to continue business as usual. He will speak directly to your concerns you and your patients have about the new economy. Don't miss this opportunity to increase your net, take more time off and enjoy the business of dentistry with your TEAM.

Dr. Blatchford will share:

- The numbers and systems essential to success
- Addressing the fear or stops in the marketplace by taking information to ACTION
- How to be more efficient and effective with time, energy and your leadership
- The value of TEAM as opposed to individual staff and how to reach that new level of playing
- The new sales conversations for you and your team
- How to examine the state of your present practice and the steps needed to meet your dreams
- How to regain your passion and energy
