

Brian P. LeSage DDS, FAACD

Bio 2010

Dr. Brian P. LeSage graduated from the University of Maryland, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in 1983. He has actively integrated academic pursuits with private practice of cosmetic dentistry for the last 19 years in Beverly Hills, California.

Dr. LeSage has obtained Fellowship status with the Academy of General Dentistry and is an Accredited Fellow in the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry. He is also the Fellowship Chair of the AACD's American Board of Cosmetic Dentistry. In August of 2008, Dr. LeSage was inducted into the American Academy of Esthetic Dentistry, which he considers to be a professional milestone.

Dr. LeSage is the founder and director of the UCLA Aesthetic Continuum and the Beverly Hills Institute of Dental Esthetics. His national and international symposia and lectures teach practicing dentists the art and science of cosmetic dentistry and offer the most current insights, techniques, and examples of excellence in cosmetic dentistry.